Whoop-up Banquet at C. of C. Brings Out Enormous Crowd on Thursday

OVERFLOW MEETING NEEDED TO ACCOMMODATE THE GANG

Miss Stella Trane is First Nominee for Queen of Winter Carnival

THE La Crosse winter carnival to be held the last week in January, was accelerated to a speed of 73 miles an hour Thursday night.

It happened at the biggest, swiftest, happiest, snappiest, rip-roaring, slaw-baw, jolly-good-fellow feed and general members' meeting the Chamber of Commerce has given since the Mississippi river was a dew drop.

Qui, qui, bingo! There was something doing almost every other minute from 6:30 o'clock when the first course of the dinner that was worth

KING JOHN REFUSES HONOR

John C. Burns was nominated by acclamation as king of the winter carnival at the banquet, but announced that he could not accept, owing to the fact he would be absent from the city.

"I have reserved myself for the fruit convention the last week in January," he said in a statement.

Friday morning, "I cannot accept the high honor as king of the carnival, and it is an honor for any citizen."

Have Overflow Meeting

Three hundred and fifty business and professional men gathered in the association's rooms to feast, sing, joke and talk. They could not be seated at the tables in the main room so extra tables were placed in the reception room where about 400 enjoyed the banquet and then listened to an impromptu program of stories, with E. C. Gardner as the chairman, until space was arranged for them in the assembly room for the main doings of the evening. Secretary E. C. Gardner presided over the meeting in a brief talk in which he told of the need of assistance from the entire community in making the winter carnival a huge success.

Then the sale of the red buttons, bearing a sketch of a green fir tree and the inscription "La Crosse Winter Carnival—1921—State, County and Santa Show," was started with a flourish. Ten young women passed through the audience with boxes of buttons and in five minutes every one of the 350 guests was wearing a button for which one dollar each was paid. Then a call for volunteers to take 50 buttons each was made.

The first one turning in $50 was allowed 2,000 votes for his choice for the queen of the carnival. J. C. Burns took the first

U. S. Ruling Bars Kick In Xmas Pudding

WASHINGTON.—Flavoring of home-made Christmas plum pudding, mince meat, brandied cherries and peaches with alcoholic spirits is a violation of the prohibition enforcement law and such foods are liable to seizure it was stated Friday at the bureau of internal revenue.

Officials explained that under their interpretation of the enforcement act culinary products in which alcohol is an ingredient can be made only by manufacturers of food products who obtain a permit from the government, and that such products must contain less than one-half of one percent of alcohol. They said the regulations require that such products shall not be sold on the premises, and that this barred the housewife from making Christmas foods with liquor in them. The regulations specifically state that no permit shall be issued to hotels and restaurants.

Retailers do not have to have permits to sell culinary products containing less than one-half of one percent alcohol obtained from authorized manufacturers, officials said.

CASTLE SENTENCED TO 5 YEARS; STILL ASSERTS INNOCENCE

Judge Gives Him Five Years on Each of Three Counts; Sentence Concurrent

MYSTERY SALESMAN BLAMED BY ACCUSED IN LAST WORDS

Winter Asks for Leniency so Castle May Support Family

A. M. CASTLE, head of the Castle Engineering company, was sentenced to five years in state's prison, this morning by Judge Wickham in circuit court on charges of obtaining money under false pretenses.

Castle was found guilty on three counts as charged in the indictment. The court sentenced him to five years on each count, the sentence to run concurrently, making a total of five years to be served.

Judge Wickham declared the case a rather unusual one and asked Castle if he had any statement to make, saying he liked to have the truth told, that he wanted a man to make a clear breast of everything before he passed sentence.

Castle, in his statement, said: "In view of the fact that the verdict has been against me, the only reply I could make, your honor, is that it would be quite convenient for the court to consider the evidence. If I had the intelligence, skill and knowledge to put through such a deal I would have done it for my own personal use and not have given the money to others."

Here the court interrupted Castle, telling him he didn't believe he was telling the truth. "Now tell me the truth," said the judge.

Castle then asserted that the forgeries were the work of Joe Burger, the mysterious person, said to be a salesman for the defendant, Castle Engineering company. Frank Winter, counsel for Castle, made a plea for leniency on the ground that a master leech, much keener than that of Cassin, directed the frauds, and that Castle, being given a sentence light enough, to enable him to leave prison at some early date so that he could take care of his wife and children.

Mr. Winter plans to appeal the case on the ground that the crime was not committed in La Crosse but in Baltimore and not in the jurisdiction of this court.

FRANK ROSS ONE OF THE HEIRS IF CLAIM IS PROVEN

Declines to Discuss Matter When Report is Received that Some Money Has Been Paid

HIS MOTHER IS DIRECT HEIR OF COUNT DEAD MANY YEARS

Claim Pending Two Generations May Yield Fruit Soon

F. T. ROSS, a telegraph operator at the north side Milwaukee railroad depot, living at 925 Ferry street, may share in a $68,000,000 Italian estate according to word received today from Kansas City.

Mr. Ross's mother, Mrs. A. P. Houston of Miami, Arizona, is one of the direct heirs to a huge estate left by Count DeGradengo in Italy at his death over thirty years ago, according to the story which comes from Kansas City.

That the claim to the estate by representatives of seven branches of the family in America has been established after a year of litigation and some money has already been received by the administrator of the estate in this country and deposited in a bank at Dallas, Texas, is the report received here today.

Takes News Calmly

Mr. Ross when seen by a representative of the Tribune and Leader-Press, declined to discuss the matter. He did not seem disposed to become excited over the report that he might soon be a rich man, but on the contrary treated the story in a sensible manner, and politely refused to be interviewed.

According to the story which comes from Kansas City, descendants of Count DeGradengo in this country have for two generations been waiting for the distribution of the estate, held all this time by the Italian government for some reason unknown here.

A year ago members of various branches of the family got together and arranged with F. U. Voorhes of Dallas, Texas, one of the heirs, to press the claim in Italy and attempt to bring about a division of the estate. Counsel was engaged and government officials asked to use their influence to bring about an adjustment to the end that the claims of heirs in this country might be satisfied.

Is Direct Heir

Mrs. Houston mother of Mr. Ross, is a great-granddaughter or great-great-granddaughter of Count De Gradengo, it is said. She is of French-Italian descent.

With seven branches of the family in this country, it is probable there are dozens of heirs to share in the estate, if the claim has been established, as now reported.

MOB STORMS JAIL IN VAIN ATTEMPT TO LYNCH BLACKS

RALEIGH, N. C.—Goldsboro, where a mob Thursday night stormed the court house in an unsuccessful attempt to obtain five negroes on trial for the murder of a white man, was guarded Friday by a machine gun company of state troops. The town was reported quiet.

One man was wounded during the melee when the court house was defended by a handful of citizens. Col. John D. Langston, one of the defenders, said the man wounded was hit by a bullet fired by a member of the mob, and that the court house "garrison" did not return the fire from the crowd.

STATE IS ENJOINED FROM INTERFERING WITH RATE RAISES

MILWAUKEE, Wis.—Judge F. E. Geiger, in federal court Friday granted a temporary injunction applied for by counsel for the Chicago & Northwestern Railroad company restraining the state of Wisconsin from interfering with the putting into effect of the proposed increase in passenger fares in Wisconsin ordered by the interstate commerce commission from 3 cents to 3.6 on January 15. Arguments on the application will be held on December 11.

LONDON.—Recent rumors of important influences working for the conclusion of a truce in Ireland preliminary to permanent peace in that island, are revived by some newspapers here Friday. Suggestion is made that definite measures of conciliation are being initiated, but all reports are vague and seemed mainly based on remarks made by Premier Lloyd George in the house of commons Thursday.

A member of the house had asked the premier whether, in view of the approach of Christmas, he should not try to bring about a truce, and the premier answered he was "quite as anxious as the questioner to see order in Ireland ended and would not have waited for the approach of Christmas to make efforts in that direction."

"I have repeatedly said," Mr. Lloyd George continued, "that I am prepared to take any steps that will lead to peace in Ireland."

Dublin newspapers are also discussing the possibilities of peace, although without contributing any more definite facts than appear in journals here.

Mrs. MacSwiney at New York

NEW YORK.—The steamship Celtic, bearing Mrs. Muriel MacSwiney, widow, and Miss Mary MacSwiney, sister, of the late Terence MacSwiney, lord mayor of Cork, who died of a hunger strike in London, was to pass into quarantine before noon Friday. Mrs. MacSwiney comes to testify before the Committee of One Hundred inquiring into conditions in Ireland.

Many organizations in sympathy with the Irish republic were represented on an official committee designated to welcome Mrs. and Miss MacSwiney.

Thousands of Irish sympathizers prepared to greet them at the pier, and police reserves were called out to insure order.

ARGENTINA MAY WITHDRAW DELEGATES FROM LEAGUE

Dissatisfied With Rejection of Nation's Proposals at Thursday Meeting

GENEVA.—By The Associated Press.—Presentation and adoption of a resolution eliminating article ten from the covenant of the league of nations before the end of the present session of the assembly would occasion no surprise here, it was declared in some quarters when the assembly began its meeting Friday morning.

Assertions were made that Thursday's decision of the committee on the admission of new states, which held, in effect, that the article does not guarantee the territorial integrity of any member of the league, represented the view of a majority of the delegates at the present meeting. This interpretation, and the postponement of the consideration of certain changes in the covenant were the principal topics of conversation.

These changes, which were proposed by Scandinavian countries, were said in no wise to prevent consideration of the "any other amendments." N. W. Rowell, a Canadian delegate, brought this out clearly by questioning A. J. Balfour of Great Britain.

The committee to which was referred the question of how to choose the four elective members of the council, was not reported. The chief of the league had not reported. The question is whether these members shall be elected for four years or two years, and it is still being debated whether their terms of office should begin from the day of entry of the council into operation, or from the present meeting of the assembly. If the latter idea prevails, the four representatives must be elected here.

The chance of Brazil returning to her place on the council is considered excellent, but Greece, it is thought, will lose her place.

Argentina May Withdraw

BUENOS AIRES.—By The Associated Press.—Rejection by the assembly of the league of nations of Argentina proposals in favor of the admission of all countries to the league may result in the withdrawal of this country from the organization, it was learned here Thursday. It was said that a cablegram was expected from Honorable Pueyrredon, Argentina's foreign minister and chief of the Argentine delegation at Geneva, notifying the government of his decision in the matter.

Foreign Minister Pueyrredon is understood to have received instructions from his government before leaving for Europe to withdraw from the league if it appeared that the assembly would refuse admission to all sovereign states, and if Argentina's proposal for the constitution of the council on a basis of equality of representation of all nations was not adopted. It is known, in view of Thursday's action by the assembly, and the opposition to Argentina's proposals there, that this government might receive a cablegram at any moment saying the delegation had withdrawn from the assembly.

Reports that France has questioned the legal status of the Argentine delegates at Geneva, are denied at the foreign office.

Receive League Invitation

WASHINGTON.—The invitation of the league of nations that the United States name a delegate to act in a consultative capacity with the league commission on armament was received Friday at the state department. Officials said the government had not decided on representation on the commission.

President Wilson has before him the reply of the league of nations council to his acceptance of the role of mediator between the Armenians and the Turkish nationalists.

While white house officials had no information as to the president's probable procedure the presumption was that he would await communications from the Spanish and Brazilian governments, who also offered their services as mediators. The council, in its reply to the president, stated it had requested Spain and Brazil to communicate with Mr. Wilson.

State department officials said today that a misconstruction had been placed upon their statement yesterday as to whether President Wilson would act officially or personally in naming a mediator to act for him in

DEALERS DENY PRICE WAR ON MILK STATIONS

Declare Price Was Reduced Because of Over-Supply and Short Demand

"That the establishment of bulk distributing stations in grocery stores and the reduction to ten cents a quart in price is not a war on the voting booth milk stations at which farmers sell direct to consumers was the statement made on Friday by Broitman & Marcan, milk dealers. The statement said:

"In answer to the item of the last night's Tribune on 'Milk Price War,' we beg to explain our position in the matter.

"To begin with, this is not a war on price, but the temporary over supply of milk, caused by a decreasing demand for it, and the drop in the price of butter. We favor the plan of selling milk in bulk, and feel that it is beneficial both to the public and ourselves and greatly reduces our expense in the handling of same.

"The shortage of bottles is another factor in the bottling of milk and is one of our problems, and we surely welcome any method that will relieve this seeming limited condition. On December 1 we started selling milk in bulk and at the present time we have nine service stations as advertised in this paper, and we expect to have more. We maintain that the voting booth is operated on as much of the 'middleman proposition' as are our stations and their help must be paid likewise for the cost of handling to them is identical to ours. There absolutely would be no business without middlemen, and any thought to eliminating them is not progress but fear."

BIG THREE WARNS GREECE AGAINST PERMITTING THE RETURN OF CONSTANTINE

WOULD JEOPARDIZE RELATIONS BETWEEN GREECE AND ALLIES

Restoration of Former Ruler Means Approval of His Hostile Acts Says Note

ACTION OF THE PREMIERS APPROVED BY PARIS PAPERS

Figaro Gives Credit for Accomplishment to French Premier

LONDON.—Allied premiers in conference on Thursday agreed to send a note to the Greek government declaring that restoration of Constantine to the throne of Greece would be regarded as ratification by that country of Constantine's hostile acts, and would create a new and unfavorable situation in the relations between Greece and the allies.

The text of the note follows:

"The British, French and Italian governments have constantly in the past given proof of their good will towards the Greek people and have favored their attainment of the secular aspirations.

"They therefore, have been all the more painfully surprised by the events which have just occurred in Greece. They have no wish to interfere in the internal affairs in Greece, but feel bound to declare publicly that restoration of the throne of Greece to a king, whose disloyal attitude and conduct towards the allies during the war caused them great embarrassment and loss, could only be regarded by them as ratification by Greece of his hostile acts.

"This step would create a new and unfavorable situation in the relations between Greece and the allies, and in that case the three governments reserve to themselves complete liberty in dealing with the situation thus created."

Paris Papers Approve

PARIS.—French opinion is gratified by the note sent to the Greek government by the premiers of France, Great Britain and Italy, and officials take an optimistic view of the future.

"The three powers," says the Petit Parisien, "in signing this note, accomplished an act of deep political foresight, which will have a most widespread and salutary effect throughout the near east."

The Figaro adds that Georges Leygues, the French premier, "obtained an incontestable diplomatic success," and even "Pertinax," political editor of the Echo de Paris, says the declaration is a "good beginning." He adds that Rumania informed the British cabinet she felt that the accession of Prince George, duke of Sparta, to the Greek throne would be the best solution of the existing difficulty and at the same time, disclaimed any desire to influence the allied policy.

BOOZE WOULD LAST THIRTY-SIX DAYS AT THE OLD RATE

Agent Kramer Fights Move to Free Stocks for Personal Use

By GEORGE. U. WATERS
N. E. A. Staff Correspondent
WASHINGTON.—If all the liquor in bonded warehouses was put on the market, it would last only 36 days if Americans should drink at their old rate. There would be less than a half gallon of booze per person, and in the good old days the people used to drink, in terms of straight whisky at the rate of five gallons a year for each man, woman and child in America.

At the present time there is in storage the following liquors:

Whisky	46,444,071
Rum	407,019
Gin	902,513
Brandy	830,396
Total	48,584,899

Have Two Views

Owing to the fact that this liquor could disappear, as though it had flowed into a sewer, in so short a time two views are taken by the prohibition enforcement division of the Supreme Court in the William C. Street case, in which Street was permitted to withdraw his booze from a New York commercial warehouse for personal use.

One view is that the Internal Revenue Bureau should open wide the flood gates and let the booze be withdrawn from the warehouses as quickly as possible. The other opinion is that the bureau should construe the right to withdraw liquor for personal use in cases exactly like the Street case, and draw the lines still tighter around the booze in the bonded warehouses.

The view taken by John Kramer is that the booze in the warehouses should not be turned loose. The ruling is now being prepared. That Kramer's view will prevail is a good bet.

The present supply of liquor will last only two more years at the rate it is being withdrawn under "strict enforcement." When the 18th amendment took effect Jan. 16, 1920, there were 71,000,000 gallons of liquor in storage and in less than a year 22-500,000 gallons have been drawn out for "medical, scientific and sacramen-

BRINGING UP FATHER

tail" purposes. Only one distillery is now running.

What it Would Cost

If Uncle Sam would let it be drawn out for beverage purposes, the owners would pay the government $310,753-354 in taxes, at the rate of $6.40 a gallon. But if the government refuses to let it be withdrawn for beverage purposes the government will get $204,000,000 less, or about $100-000,000.

Many of the banks hold booze warehouse certificates as collateral for loans. There is probably less than $50,000,000 loaned on these certificates. If they were redeemed the money paid into the banks would relieve the present money stringency a little. But ultimately it would only mean there would be a shifting of money from the hands of those who drink to the hands of those who own or hold the certificates.

BURROWS UNDER SUNKEN BOAT

In the various waters of the world
there are many treasure-laden crafts which are just beyond the limits to which a diver may descend. A. B.
Salinger, native of the State of Washington has addressed himself to the solving of these two problems with apparent success. He has invented a burrowing machine for passing cables under the hull of a sunken ship and a resilient pontoon for lifting power regardless of storms.

The burrowing machine is in the form of a double torpedo, provided with oppositely rotating propellers, electric motors for driving them, and rudders for controlling the direction of the machine, which is operated from the deck of a tug or other vessel lying over the wreck. By the side of the operator is a signal board equipped with automatically acting electric lights to show the direction and position of the burrowing machine. The scrivings of the diver are utilized only to guide the machine at a distance if necessary and the ropes are carried under and about the craft in much less time than is ordinarily required for this operation.

Carbon Lamps Now a Backnumber

For the year 1919 sales of all kinds of lamps in the United States amounted to 183,000,000, and although this is 3,000,000 less than in 1918, the diminution is not substantial. An interesting feature is the diminution in the percentage of carbon filament lamps made. This has fallen from 11 per cent, to 7 per cent, in 1919. It is also interesting to note the increase in the use of gas-filled lamps, of which 24,000,000 were sold in 1918, as compared with 27,000,000 in 1919
—a rise of 12 1/2 per cent. Most interesting of all, no doubt, is the fact that the average candle power of lamps is steadily increasing.

Whenever a worrying thought as-sails your brain just take a very long, slow breath. Retain the air in the lungs for ten seconds and then slowly expel it. Your worry will vanish while exhaling the air.

The explanation may lie in the fact that the lungs are usually in a half-filled condition, and this state produces irritation of the brain conducive to worry. The instant the lungs are filled with oxygen the brain recovers and tackles the worry successfully.

MISS HINTGEN GIVES TALK TO STUDENTS

Says That High School Years Are Best During Persons' Life

That the four years of high school life are the best years of any person's life was shown by Miss Hintgen, supervisor of attendance and vocational guidance in speaking to the students in assembly last Wednesday morning. She said that practically no one had an excuse for not attending high school or quitting. She gave seven reasons for quitting school which she had heard: That the cost to attend was too great; that the girl or boy must support the family; that they didn't like the teachers; or had failed in one or more subjects; that they had suffered sickness or misfortune; or had been offered a good job; or that the course was too long.

To prove to yourself that education is an essential in life, you should consult different groups of people; namely, persons over 25 years of age who had a high school education, people of the same age with no such education, and those who are not in favor of going to school.

She emphasized the fact that education broadens sympathies, develops the mind, gives good health, and gives a better chance for later saving investments.

According to statistics a person with a high school education earns $21 a week and $62,000 during his life while a person without an education earns $12.50 a week and $23,000 during his life. The educated gets promoted and the other does not.

She closed by saying, "Keep your head above the clouds but keep your feet firmly upon the ground."

Girls' Basketball Team Picked

A picked team consisting of members of the girl's class basketball teams has been organized to play outside teams. A game with Onalaska has been planned. The line-up is as follows: Forwards—Laviola Stanley, captain, and Edith Jorris; guards—Marie Turek and Loreta Dore; jumping center—Rose Heranek; running center—Janet Atkinson.

Letters Awarded

At a meeting of the Athletic Council letters were awarded to the following: Capt. Sullivan, Capt. Victor Murrie, Edgar and Carmel Snickles, John Zeeb, Leo Mueller, Bill Turek, Dutch Knecht, Art Drey, Monney Vondrashek, Ray Dunham, Tom Maloney, Joe Abraham, Newell Holley, Leonard Killian, Jule Kevin, Ed Miller. Honorable mention was given to Boyie Mattison and Evans.

Geometry Club Organized

Mr. Mack's geometry classes have organized clubs, each having the name of some great mathematician. Each class is divided into two sections, and each section has a captain. The method of procedure is as follows: First, Mr. Mack, the referee and scorekeeper, flips a coin to see which side is to get the first problem; then he gives the problem and the captain calls on one of his section to prove it. As the method of scoring is too complicated to explain here, anyone interested in this system can secure this information from Mr. Mack. So far the plan has proved quite successful.

The captains have shown great ability in handling their sections, especially those of the second period class where the captains are George Killian and Ray Sletten.

Physics II Class Studies Electric Lights

The students in the Physics II class are now studying electric lights. It is a well-known fact that tungsten lamps are more expensive in their initial cost than carbon lamps. But the Physics II class has proved that while in 100 hours, the carbon light consumes $2.12 worth of electricity, the tungsten light of twice the candle power, consumes only $.90 worth. Hence tungsten lamps give more light at less cost.

H. S. Dressmakers Sew For Children

The millinery classes have been sewing for four small children. The girls were all willing to bring material from home with which to work. Many attractive garments have been made for the children. Some of the little folks from the kindergarten served as models and they seemed delighted to try on the clothes.

The Doka Guma Society will present "Rooms to Let" and "The Kleptomaniac" at Hokah December 11.

The La Crosse Radio club is planning to have a code practice every Monday and Wednesday evening from 7:00 to 7:30 p. m. in the high school physics laboratory. Any person who desires to become proficient in the international code, which is used in wireless, is urged to come. Those who attend must bring their own phones with them. All other necessary apparatus has already been procured.

Babies Loaned to High

Every year when the freshmen enter high school we predict that babies will be the next. This time a baby has really entered and is to have work in the department of Home Economics.

Her mother has loaned her to the school so that the students in the Home Economics department may have practice in the care and feeding of children and making clothes for them.

In exchange for the use of the baby the department has made some clothes and prepared a Thanksgiving dinner for the family.

There are, it has been carefully estimated, thirteen billion suns in the universe, some a-borning, some in full vigor, some dying and some dead.

ELECTION BOOTH MILK DEPOTS CUT COST

GREEN BAY, Wis.—Housewives here have been going to election booths every morning, not to vote, but to buy milk for ten cents a quart, three cents cheaper than it has been for months. Mayor Elmer S. Hall and the city council back the plan to use the booths as milk distributing stations and it is believed other price drops will follow the slump in milk cost. Whipping cream costs sixty cents a quart, coffee cream, forty cents; skim milk, three cents, and buttermilk two cents. The products are sold in bulk, but are under state and city health inspection.

How to Read Body Temperature
 (By U. S. Public Health Service.)
 In health the body temperature varies within very small limits (usually less than one degree Fahrenheit), no matter how much the temperature of its surroundings varies;
 consequently a temperature is abnormal if it is higher or lower than the usual temperature of a healthy person.

The temperature is taken by means of a clinical thermometer placed either in the mouth or in the rectum.

To take the mouth temperature, first wash the thermometer, using cold water and muslin or cotton cloth. Next shake it until the mercury thread registers 96 degrees or below. It is well before purchasing a thermometer to see whether it can be shaken down easily. Next place the thermometer in the patient's mouth, with its bulb under his tongue; he must then keep his lips closed until it is removed. Leave the thermometer in his mouth for at least two minutes. Then remove the thermometer, read the temperature and record the result. Clean the thermometer at once, using first cold water and soap, and then medicated alcohol, 70 per cent.

The mouth temperature of a healthy person is about 98.6 degrees F. This statement holds true if the person has been sitting with his mouth shut for a little while before his temperature is taken; but a hot bath, breathing through the mouth, eating or drinking, and so forth may cause marked temperature changes.

The temperature should be taken by rectum in babies and young children, restless, drowsy, or delirious patients, patients who cannot be trusted to keep the thermometer under the tongue, mouth breathers, and in patients who have difficulty in keeping the mouth shut. The temperature is normally about half a degree higher than in the mouth.

Milk for Baby
 Q. I will be very thankful if you will let me know what milk to give a breast-fed baby when weaning her.
 My baby is 15 months old and weighs about 35 pounds.—Mrs. E. St. H.

A. A breast-fed baby should be given modified cow's milk when weaning it. Your baby is old enough to be taking whole milk, but since she has not been accustomed to this food, it would not be wise to put her on it immediately. I should advise beginning with a mixture of 23 ounces of whole milk, 14 ounces of water and 2 tablespoonsful of sugar of milk or dextrin maltose. The change from this formula to whole milk can be made much more rapidly in the case of a fine, healthy, 15-month-old baby like yours than in that of a delicate young infant.

Story of the Chocolate Cup Sugar gradually found its way into the New World from India, while one of the first American products to be carried back to Europe and Asia was the cocoa bean, from which co-cocoa and chocolate are manufactured

Montezuma, the famous Aztec king, drank chocolate from a golden cup and had in reserve fifty jars or pitchers of this delicious beverage for his own personal daily consumption, with considerably more for his household.
 The process of making the beverage was long kept a secret in Portugal and Spain, where the new Mexican drink at once became fashionable, and exorbitant prices were charged for it. In England, also, it remained for a long time among the luxuries of the wealthy, even after the use of tea and coffee had become common.

London's Lincoln Spire
 Probably few of the teeming thousands who pass the soaring spire of Christ Church, Westminster Bridge road, whose pastor, Dr. F. B. Meyer, is retiring, know its proper name and origin. It is called the "Lincoln Spire," and was built by a band of Americans in memory of the freeing of the slaves. When the smoke is not too thick, an observant eye may see, high up on the steeple, the famous Stars and Stripes embroidered by the cunning chisel. By the irony of circumstances Dr. Meyer's immediate predecessor, Dr. Len Bronghton, came from a family who fought in the American War to keep the shackles on the slaves.

FIFTEEN WOMEN ARE GIVEN LICENSES AS METHODIST PASTORS

Washington Woman First to be Licensed by the Church

CHICAGO.—Fifteen women have been licensed as preachers in the Methodist Episcopal church since this right has been granted last May by the General Conference of the church.
 Miss M. Madeline Southard reports.
 Miss Southard is president of an association of women preachers in the United States and Canada that represents 15 denominations. She is director of Evangelism of the Epworth League.

The first woman preacher to be licensed in the Methodist Episcopal church under this ruling, Miss Southard said, "was Miss D. Willie Cattery of Wenatchee, Wash. She came from a family of preachers and at the age of nine wanted to preach. She had been acting as associate pastor of the First Methodist church at Wenatchee. Her pastor who was at the General Conference telegraphed word of its decision, and she was licensed as a local preacher within two hours.

 "The same evening Miss Winifred Willard was licensed by the First Methodist Episcopal church of Denver. At the time she was 200 miles away in the east, but the enterprising Denverites called a meeting as soon as they heard the news and took action.

"The first woman licensed in New England was Mrs. Kate Morrison Cooper. For the past three years she had been pastor of the Methodist Episcopal church at Portsmouth, N. H.
 She was licensed June 10.

"Ten days later Miss Mabelle H.
 Whitney was licensed at Pittsfield, Vt. She was a supply pastor and previously had served as pastor of a Congregational church in Maine. Ten days after that Miss Capitola B.
 Lochner was licensed by the Proctorsville, Vt. M. E. church, and in a week another Vermont woman, Miss Ellen H. Wagner, a public school teacher, was licensed at Nulton."

Miss Southard herself was the seventh woman preacher licensed.
 "It is not an easy task to keep informed on how many women have been licensed," she said, "when they are being licensed right along in so many sections."

"There is no doubt," Miss Southard added, "that ordination will be granted Methodist women when the next General Conference meets in 1924."

ROAD QUESTION UP BEFORE JUDGE FOR ARGUMENT

McGilvray Bridge Problem
Inning in Circuit Court
Thursday Night

Judge Wickham called up the matter informally to give attorneys an opportunity to make arguments on the order to show cause why members of the road and bridge committee of the La Crosse county board should not be adjudged in contempt of court for failing to complete the repair of the road to the bridge spanning Black river between Trempealeau and La Crosse counties.

It was apparent in the hearing Thursday night that the issue resolves itself into a determination of the point where the road ends and the bridge begins. A gap of 40 feet of uncompleted road remains between the repaired road and the bridge.

The hearing was scheduled to be heard before Judge Wickham in Early Claire Saturday, but was held there Thursday night to save traveling expenses for the lawyers, in early decision is expected.

EQUITY VOTES DOWN
PLAN FOR MERGER
WITH FARM BUREAU

Society Decides to "Remain True to its Individuality"; Tit-more Opposed Plan

LEADERSHIP COMMENDED FOR LAKES WATERWAY WORK

Resolution Aimed at Non-Partisans Passed by Society

MILWAUKEE, Wis.—There will be no amalgamation of the equity society in Wisconsin, with the Wisconsin Farm Bureau, according to a resolution passed by the Wisconsin Society of Equity on the third day of its annual convention here today.

The report of the resolutions committee which took up this much discussed issue declared in the resolution adopted that the equity society would remain true to its individuality and not merge with the farm bureau, which has been in the state two years and has 8,000 members. Its national membership is over 1,000,000. President J. N. Tittmore of the equity, who was declared in favor of the plan to combine, in a final show down, came out emphatically against it.

That was the finishing touch and with shouts of "stand by the good old society of equity" the proposal was defeated.

Commend Leinroot

Resolutions offering condolences to the Stoughton Milk Producers Cooperative Marketing company, which suffered a catastrophe last week when a boiler in their plant blew up killing and injuring a number of people, were unanimously passed by the convention. Senator I. L. Leinroot was commended in another unanimously passed resolution for his work in behalf of the great lakes to sea canal plan.

Development and strengthening of the division of markets, securing of data to enable the farmer to determine the cost of production on every phase of farm effort, the urging of congress to re-establish federal land banks to counteract the "growing tendency and high interest charges" were passed in the form of resolutions.

Hit Nonpartisans

A victory for anti-Nonpartisan League forces was gained when an amendment to the constitution was put over which will at future conventions prohibit organizers working for other farm organizations to sit as delegates in Equity conventions. This resolution was aimed specially at the Nonpartisan league which at this convention, the committee on constitution was told last night, has at least six organizers sitting in as delegates.

The vote on this measure clearly showed that if the anti-league forces stand together they are strongly in the majority. The reading of the amendment was greeted with an approving demonstration.

Charles A. Lyman, former Madisonian, now national secretary of the national board of farmer organizations, an advisory council composed of sixteen of the largest farmers' organizations in the nation, spoke on the work of the board. It was voted to have the Wisconsin union join the council and a sum of money was appropriated for the action.

Anti-Tittmore-Pommeroy forces led by Judge D. O. Mahoney, Viroqua, forestalled an attempt to have the election of officers held as the first business of the day.

Such a course would have prevented the showing of "hands" on the farm bureau consolidation proposal. Pommeroy was for the amalgamation and it was figured by his opponents that if he could have the election before the issue was decided his chances for election as president would be greatly strengthened. It was decided by a vote to put the election of officers off until reports of all committees had been received.

Tittmore settled all rumors as to his making another race for the presidency with a statement to the convention that he would positively not run again.

"I am a poor man," he said. "I can't afford to be president of Equity."

and another reason is I want to see this factionalism over with. Blatant money is my ambition."

A letter was read before the convention from William J. Langer, former Nonpartisan league attorney general of North Dakota, who broke with A. C. Townley, league chief, declaring that "the farmers of North Dakota were coming to Wisconsin to pin a medal of gold on the breast of J. N. Tittmore for his great work fighting the Nonpartisan league."

EVERYBODY HAS ALIBI FOR HIGH COST OF BREAD

Bakers See No 10c Loaf Until Flour Goes to $8.00 a Barrel

BY EDWARD M. TERRY
(N. E. A. Staff Correspondent)
CHICAGO.—Who is the profiteer between the wheat in the field and the bread on the family dinner table? Make a complete survey of the wheat-flour-bread situation, getting everybody's viewpoint, and you'll find no profiteer—because everybody has an alibi!

"We're all getting our share," says Herbert Hoover, "for everything is labor when you reduce it to its lowest terms."

Bakers, until recently, predicted no decrease in bread prices in spite of wheat and flour drops. But wheat has now slid back about 100 percent and flour around 50 percent. And bakers are now slowly shaving off a cent or so in the price of a pound loaf of bread.

More Than Expected
"We said bread wasn't going down," say the bakers now, "but flour has dropped more than we foresaw. However, in fairness to us, there cannot be a 10-cent loaf with a reasonable profit to the baker until flour goes under $8 a barrel."

Bakers have cut prices in individual cases. But all are failing to line for they are reluctantly giving way before public pressure and are going to take a loss the same as the clothing, shoe and other trades have been taking their medicine in the nationwide reaction against high prices and spending. Small bakers are reducing faster than large bakers because they didn't have such heavy stocks of high priced flour.

Here is the way Hoover recently split up the cost of a loaf of bread:
Flour 4.30 cents
Other ingredients 1.25 cents
Labor, overhead, etc. 4.10 cents
Profit to baker .62 cents Retailer's share 1.75 cents

12.00 cents
Of the 4 1/2 cents paid for the flour in a loaf of bread, the farmer is credited by Hoover with getting 3 cents of this.

Labor Cost Tripled
The big item is labor—1.10 cents per loaf. This has doubled and tripled since peacetime. Then bakers got from $20 to $25 a week. Now skilled bakers command almost any price. In New York they got $55 to $70 a week. In Chicago the scale is $45 to $60. Bakers in Brooklyn, getting $50 to $60, recently went on strike for a 6 percent increase.

The farmer also blames the increased cost of producing wheat on labor. Harvest hands getting as high as $7 a day in Oklahoma, for example. President Harding of the Kansas State Agricultural College charges profiteering somewhere between the wheat grower and the bread consumer and he is trying to get Bernard M. Baruch to help him locate the "fat that lies up the cream"—but without success so far.

"Price Ridiculous"
Dr. H. D. Ladd, senator-elect and president of the North Dakota Agricultural College, says the price of bread is ridiculous.

And Harley R. Mitchell, editor of the "American Miller," says: "If the farmer gave his wheat to the miller, if the miller made a present of it to the baker and the baker carried it for nothing, bread would still cost eight cents a loaf in New York."

WILSON AT WORK ON MESSAGE TO CONGRESS

WASHINGTON.—President Wilson still is at work on his annual message to congress, and it was indicated that it probably would not be completed before the end of this week or early next week. It is understood the present plan is to communicate it to congress next Tuesday, the day following the opening of the session.

FIRST DANCING PARTY IN 35 YEARS GIVEN AT MILTON COLLEGE

Discussion of Propriety of Dancing Threatens Disruption of College Circles

MILTON, Wis.—A discussion of the propriety of dancing precipitated by the first dance held here in 35 years, threatens disruption of Milton College circles. Arthur M. Mills, editor of the college paper has resigned, as a result of criticism following the ball, and the college faculty, according to reports, is discussing legislation proposed to make participation in a dance an offense punishable by expulsion.

A dancing exhibition given by three girls in modified ballet costume at a literary society meeting was denounced in chapel by W. C. Daland, president of the college who said that he had heard only two comments, one that it was a "good leg show" and the other that it was a "bum leg show." Milton college has 110 girls with eighty more in the musical courses. It is conducted under auspices of the Seventh Day Baptist church, but no sectarian tenets are taught, according to heads of the institution. Dancing, card playing, and use of tobacco are rigidly prohibited.

MICHIGAN GROWERS HOLD TUBERS FOR DOLLAR A BUSHEL

TRAVERSE CITY, Mich.—Potato buyers here estimate the Northern Michigan warehouses hold one million bushels of potatoes for which the growers are demanding $1 per bushel. They are being offered sixty cents. Some buyers are predicting a recurrence next spring of the experience of 1914 when hundreds of thousands of bushels of potatoes were dumped.

Complaint is heard against competition with Canadian growers which they declare is unfair owing to the short haul across the border at Detroit and the duty free privilege.

NORTHERN IRELAND PARLIAMENT SOON TO BE ESTABLISHED

Expected to Serve as Example for Rest of Warring Country

ULSTER ASKS AMENDMENTS TO THE HOME RULE BILL

Sinn Feiners Demand Complete
Separation

DUBLIN.—The Irish parliament at Belfast for the six northeast counties is expected to be set up immediately, once the Home Rule Bill is passed by the Imperial government. It was pointed out that this would serve as an example for all the rest of Ireland, and have a steady effect by showing the Sinn Feiners that Dublin and the other 26 counties could have precisely the same machinery of self-government as Belfast will have for its six counties.

There is some agitation for amendments to the financial terms of the Home Rule Bill. Ulstermen are opposed to handing over to any Irish body the control of customs and excise. They do not want the privilege for themselves and are determined that it shall not be available for the rest of Ireland, fearing that it might be used to the detriment of industry in the northern section of the country.

Belfast men want more than 1,000,000 pounds to be granted for setting up its proposed new parliament. They also say that the sum of 18,000,000 pounds which Ireland is to contribute annually to the support of the empire is too high. This would be reduced by about 3,000,000 pounds a year by the annuities now payable to the Imperial treasury by Irish farmers who have purchased their holdings with government advances. This sum is in the future to be divided between the two Irish parliaments.

One suggestion has been made that Ireland's contribution to the Imperial funds shall be limited to the Irish income tax and super-tax, which at present amounts to 10,000,000 or 11,000,000 pounds a year.

Outside of Ulster, however, none of these points is being discussed at all. Complete separation and an independent republic is the Sinn Fein policy, while even the moderates demand a government for all Ireland on dominion lines as completely free in finance as Canada. The government's bill does nothing to meet this view and its creation of two separate parliaments in Ireland with equal power is resented by every section of politicians in the south and west.

Killed Value of Old Coins

U. S. A. WONDERLAND SAYS FRENCH OFFICER ON RETURN TO PARIS

Conquered by America, Says Fayolle; Lauds Skill of American Chefs

PARIS.—General Fayolle said upon his return recently from his three weeks stay in the United States, "I have just discovered America and America has conquered me. It is a wonderland."

"It has been a hard fight, those three weeks in America," the General went on with the usual humorous twinkle in his eye. "I come back on the verge of collapse with grim dyspepsia holding me in its grip. Without taking back anything I have said about American Expeditionary Force cooks being rank amateurs, I must take off my hat to American chefs. There were many banquets and luncheons, but I survived them all."

To the suggestion that most of the chefs at the leading hotels were French, General Fayolle replied: "They may be, but they certainly have undergone an evolution for they had strange dishes of their own."

"Did you miss your wine with your meals," he was asked.

"I never missed my wine," Fayolle replied.

"Don't ask me to talk local American politics," General Fayolle went on when requested to explain whether he meant that he had his wine twice a day as is his custom, or that he did not miss it temperamentally.

"I have had a grandiose reception that I shall never forget although I am certain that it was not for me personally, but because I represented Marshal Foch and the French Army."

"I lived through it," concluded the General, "but even the organizers of my tour had to admit that it was a record for endurance."

Labor Unions Flourishing
The Belgian labor unions have been revived since the ending of the war. During the conflict their membership lagged, but recently they have increased greatly.

The Moon's Light at Its Best

GROWING DEAF WITH HEAD NOISES?
TRY THIS

If you are growing hard of hearing and your catarrhal deafness or if you have roaring, rumbling, hissing noises in your ears go to your druggist and get a course of Farmol (double strength), and add to it 1-4 pint of hot water and a little granulated sugar. Take 1 tablespoonful four times a day.

This will often bring quick relief from the distressing head noises. Clogged nostrils should open, breathing become easy and the mucus stop dropping into the throat. It is easy to prepare, costs little and is pleasant to take. Anyone who is threatened with Catarrhal Deafness or who has head noises should give this prescription a trial.

Reduction Sale of Unprecedented Magnitude for Saturday

In Many Departments, All Things Reduced!

Tomorrow, Saturday, begins a price-lowering campaign of amazing and unprecedented magnitude, wholly in the interest of the public, and at a cost to us of thousands of dollars—for all the merchandise reduced was originally marked at a fair, moderate, legitimate profit over cost. We could not sell goods regularly at such a sacrifice of profit and continue in business. But there is, unquestionably, an expectation and even a demand on the part of the public for lower prices, and we are meeting this desire whole-heartedly, ready and willing to take great losses as our share in opening the road toward a general lower-price level.

NANCE O'NEIL IN
"THE PASSION FLOWER"

Judging from the criticisms in the New York and Chicago press in which Miss Nance O'Neil has presented Jacinto Benavente's great drama, "The Passion Flower," for thirty-eight successive weeks, and which will hold the boards at the La Crosse on Monday, December 13, Miss O'Neil has made the greatest dramatic hit of a long career. Robert Gilbert Welsh, in the New York Evening Telegram, in his lengthy comment on the play and actress, says: "The play is absorbing in its revelation of character, re-action following re-action, until the depths of human souls are revealed. The work at the end of the second act was tempestuous and overpowering. The scenes leading up to the climax in the third act were superbly handled and in the death scene, she was profoundly moving. Where Sardou and others would have written pages for a Bernhardt to lie back in picturesque poses, Benavente has given Raimunda one exclamation and three or four sentences. And they are more potent than a fifteen minute scene could possibly be."

Great Britain's war debt is equal to $786 for each man, woman and child on the British Isles.

MINSTRELS COMING

The many lovers of minstrelsy will be delighted to learn that Gus Hill's minstrels will appear at the La Crosse theater one night Friday, December 10. This mammoth organization and gigantic array of comedians, singers and dancers, come direct from the Auditorium theater in Chicago, where they scored one of the biggest hits ever made at the big playhouse. Record breaking crowds flocked to the Auditorium during the engagement and the press and public of Chicago were unanimous in proclaiming the Hill organization as the greatest minstrel show of the century. This attraction de luxe was staged by Gorman, America's greatest actor of minstrel novelties, and his wealth of minstrel surprises that make the most blasé sit up and notice. Old "King Jaz" plays an important part in the performance. There will be a street parade at 2:30. Band concert at 7:30 p. m.

IN SOCIETY

LARGE SUM IS MADE BY WEST AVE. M. E. LADIES AT BAZAAR

THE ANNUAL BAZAAR and chicken supper given last night by the Ladies' society of the West Avenue Methodist church, was successful, between four hundred and fifty and five hundred dollars being realized, while the actual expense of the affair was very small.

Mrs. Frank Anderson, president of the society, was the general chairwoman, and to her and all the members of the committee, who labored for weeks for the wonderful amount realized, the success is due.

Mrs. Anderson also was in supervision of the kitchen. Mrs. A. D. Johnson was in charge of the dining room. The fancy work booth was in charge of Mrs. J. E. Keizer and Mrs. L. C. Nelson. The food and candy booth, under the direction of the Epworth league, was attended by Miss Mabel Lewis and Lillian Lewis. Mrs. Anderson and the members of the society desire to express their appreciation to the various circles and every one who helped to make this big annual affair so successful.

THE LADIES' aid society of the Episcopal Free church, Fifteenth and Winnebago streets, will meet at the church parlors tonight. A good program will be given and refreshments will be served. Mesdames Tesley and Thompson will serve.

MISS MARION MOSS was guest of honor Wednesday afternoon at a one o'clock luncheon given by Miss Ella Peterson, 125 South Sixth street. Pink and white were the colors which were carried out effectively in the table decorations, a handsome basket of roses and narcissi being used as the central feature. At each place was a dainty hot case containing a rosebud. The bride-elect was presented with three sets of silver and salt shakers. Places were laid for nine.

PREVIOUS to the luncheon given Sunday by the La Crosse County Community council at Masonic temple, the board of directors will meet at eleven o'clock sharp for a business session.

THE THURSDAY Pioneer Bridge club will give the second of its series of card parties, Thursday, December eighth, at the club rooms. All members desiring tables reserved may phone Mrs. R. Humboldt or Mrs. August Gram.

A SEVEN and one-half pound daughter was born Wednesday evening, December first, at St. Ann's hospital to Mr. and Mrs. L. E. Sweet, 1622 Liberty street.

THE CAMERON LITERARY club met at the home of Mesdames Otto and Wendell Moss Wednesday. The order first, for twelve o'clock dinner. Thirty members were in attendance. Following dinner the following interesting program was given. The meeting opened by singing by the club. Current events were the responses given in answer to roll call. The subject of the lesson was "America Government." Mrs. W. J. Dawson spoke on the United States Supreme Court, and Mrs. E. H. Kinney on the United States Federal Court. Miss Harriet Dawson, a student of the University of Wisconsin, studying physical education, who is home on a vacation, spoke on her work. The club voted to give a dancing party Friday evening, December tenth. The date then adjourned, the place of the next meeting to be announced later.

FEATHERY FANS OF OSTRICH GIVE AIR OF ROMANCE TO EVENING GOWNS

Each star has a different style of ostrich fan: Carmel Myers at the left; Gladys Walton at the right, and in center Priscilla Dean.

Three Universal stars. One, that of it has with sticks of white bone, while Carmel Myers, is fashioned of six feathers attached to a long stick of heavy plumes in a marvelous new fan, exactly that of the Honey Dew melon.

Gladys Walton's fan is creamy white to match her white and gold embroidered frock. Straight feathers all in shades of brown.

Of them all—the fans of rare old lace with sticks of carved ivory, exquisite Watteau themes, and the hand-drawn of other varieties—the ostrich feather fans are the most favored.

TOO MUCH "KICK" IN CHRISTMAS CHERRIES FOR U. S. DRY AGENTS

HOUSTON, Tex.—In what was said to be the opening gun of a nation-wide campaign, federal prohibition agents here today seized virtually all of Houston's visible supply of Christmas brandied cherries and mince meat, put in glass jars prior to prohibition.

Armed with search warrants and a moving van, the agents seized more than 400 jars of fruit from eight or ten retail grocery stores and cached the jars in the local prohibition enforcement office.

The agents assert that the fruit contained more than one-half of one per cent alcohol.

PRINCE OF WALES WRITES VERSE TO KING OF THE SEA

Pens "Apostrophe to Neptune" Upon Occasion of Crossing the Equator

LONDON—The latest role in which the Prince of Wales has appeared is that of a poet. The following verses were written and recited by the prince on the occasion of the ceremony on the warship Renown, attending his first crossing of "the line" on his trip to Australia.

Apostrophe to Neptune (By H. R. H. The Prince of Wales)

King Neptune, I am proud to wear This honorable and handsome collar. Although from all reports, I hear There's still a great deal more to follow.

I'm glad to meet your charming wife. And all the members of your court. From all I've seen I'll bet my life That Amphitrite's quite a sport.

I hear you're handing out some dope To each expectant frightened lad. Made up of pills and shaving soap. Why! Is not that just quite too bad.

I hear you're—Say: What a noise They're hungry to begin the bathing. I know I'm "for it" king! So boys Don't let me keep the party waiting.

CHARGED 20 CENTS TOO MUCH—FINED $150

LONDON—Paddington street butcher got it in the neck for charging woman customer 10 cents too much for neck of lamb. Thus violated laws regulating prices. Fined $150 in police court.

The meeting will be under the auspices of the Louisville Automobile Club and other officials of automobile clubs have been asked to attend.

The program includes addresses and discussions on many topics of interest to automobile clubs and officials. Men from all parts of the country are slated to speak.

The program includes discussion on "In What Manner Can the Local Club Cooperate with the Police in Connection with Car Tolerances?" The leader will be W. S. Gilbreath, manager of the Detroit Automobile Association who also will deliver an address on "Signs and Highway Markers."

"How to build Club Membership," will be the subject of a discussion led by Fred H. Calley, secretary of the Cleveland O. Automobile Club. Mr. Calley also will deliver an address on "Legislation."

Lewis, secretary of the Automobile Club of Buffalo, Buffalo, N. Y., will lead a discussion on "What are the Best Methods for Getting Out Touring Information?"

What Eugene Stuart, secretary of the Louisville Automobile Club says is one of the most important subjects to be taken up will be "To What Extent Shall the Non-Member be Served" in connection with the dissemination of touring information and other matters dealt with by Automobile Clubs. This discussion will be led by M. E. Noblet, secretary of the Hoosier Motor Club, Indianapolis. Mr. Noblet is manager of the Hoosier State Automobile Association.

A. G. Batchelder, chairman of the Executive Committee of the American Automobile Association, Washington, D. C., will deliver an address on "National Highways and the Townsend Bill," and M. J. McCormick, secretary and manager of the Toledo Automobile Club, Toledo, O., will speak on "Club Publications."

Other discussions slated for the meeting and their leaders are:

"Is the Insurance Department Advisable or is it Sometimes a Detriment?"—Charles M. Hayes, president Chicago Motor Club, Chicago, Ill.

The Bishop of the North Pole. The Right Reverend R. J. Lucas, Bishop of the Mackenzie River Diocese is known to his brother clerics as "Bishop of the North Pole." For the 600,000 square miles of his diocese stretch over the frozen wastes of the Arctic regions of Northern Canada to the farthest Eskimo settlements, and in visiting the seven mission posts every year he travels several thousand miles. It is a diocese of only 6,000 people, of whom 100 are whites, 900 half-breeds of Scottish and French origin, and the rest of Indians and Eskimos.

HOW TO PREPARE YOUR $5,000 SCENARIO CONTEST STORY

Scenario writing for photoplays isn't as hard or intricate as it seems; according to those who know.

There are three forms in which properly registered readers of this paper may submit photoplay ideas in the Tribune and Leader-Press-J. Parker Road, Jr., $5,000 prize scenario contest now in progress.

These three forms are: (1)—Synopsis, (2)—Narrative, (3)—Continuity.

The first, or synopsis form, is in more general use because it does not have to detail the language and long conversation on the part of the characters, and because the action of the story can be told more clearly.

A synopsis is merely a summing up and clear statement of the idea, the character and the action in your story. In writing this form of contribution to the contest you should tell your story as though you were relating something you had already seen happen on the screen. For instance:

"William Golden, the hero, lingered in the doorway, uncertain and with noticeable hesitation, before rushing into the room. Golden should register doubt, uncertainty, before rushing the door. He should also avoid being called a coward."

"Cut to the room and we see Charles Smith, the villain, talking to Mrs. Golden. Smith is insistent, and, in a measure, threatening in his attitude. Golden comes into the room and looks coldly upon the pair, having somewhat regained his usual composure."

And so on, throughout the action of the story, as you have conceived it and carefully thought out its main and side lines of action in advance.

The most favored synopsis is the one that can depict clearly and in fewest words a story in action, describe sets, stage or outdoor settings and delineate characters, so that a producer or scenario editor can understand what the author is saying.

The narrative form of telling a story is not always welcome, but if, through the great array of conversation and beautiful writing, the editor can see a screen vehicle—a picture story—then the manuscript may find a sale. It is not advisable for anyone writing directly for the screen to use this form.

Continuity is a more detailed description of the action of a story. It is a guide to the director, and a framework around which a picture is constructed. But in most cases a producer prefers the synopsis form, so that it can be turned over to a studio continually writer, who has been trained to construct a script in the manner peculiar to that particular studio.

Jump in and write a story. Something original, something human and something that can be transferred to the screen, is what is wanted. Try it. You may be the winner.

You must fill and sign the accompanying registration blank, and send all scenario matter to The Scenario Contest Editor, Daily Tribune and Leader-Press.

LOST IN CITY HALL STRANGER GLAD TO FIND THE STREET

The catacombs of Rome have nothing on the city hall as far as a certain stranger is concerned when looking for an exit in that building Thursday morning.

A comedy scene entitled "This Way Out," was staged on the first floor of the city hall Thursday morning among employees of the building and an apparent stranger who had come on business—but was now seeking an exit.

"How can I get downstairs?" was the question asked of the janitor who was wielding a broom about the floor. The janitor thinking the man wanted to get to the basement, pointed to the door leading to the lower chambers.

In the meantime while the janitor was busy engaged in his work, the man about whom the story centers had taken the wrong door and had entered a dark store room, evidently remaining there for some time.

"That can't be the right door," said the stranger as he found his way back to the janitor in search of new directions.

"What do you want here—pay a bill or something?" asked the janitor in a worried tone.

"No, I am all through—I want to get out on the street. What floor am I on?"

Coming to the conclusion that the man didn't want the basement at all, the janitor politely ushered him to light.

Literary Lights Behind This Counter
At Boar's Hill, near Oxford, England, there is a little notion store which looks a little different from the usual country store, but the residents of the vicinity patronize it very liberally. Most of the residents are literary personages, and as the store is operated by two very distinguished ladies, you are likely to encounter there any one of a number of very prominent English writers. It is said on many occasions the poet laureate of England has been seen behind the counter waiting upon customers and others visiting the place frequently are Mr. Masfield, Mr. Galsworthy, Sirs Gilbert Murray and Walter Raleigh.

RECORDS SHOW 1920 BANNER YEAR FOR ALL WATER SPORTS

More Regattas and Racing Events Held Than in the Previous Years

Records show that 1920 was a banner year for all classes of water sports and particularly for motor boating.

In the racing field, it is said that there were more regattas and racing events than ever before, and the prospects for 1921 are that this interest will steadily increase.

During the war interest in motor boating, and in boat racing, necessarily lagged because of the more important work to be done, but since the close of the great conflict interest in the sport has steadily increased and the past season shows motor boating on a firmer and better basis than ever before.

In many western cities the revival of interest was most notable. This was true in a marked degree at Peoria, Ill., always recognized as a Western center. War interest had temporarily killed boat racing at Peoria, but in 1920 that city staged a "come back" which attracted attention all over the country. In a Labor Day regatta there were about thirty race boats most of which were owned in Peoria or at nearby towns on the Illinois river.

Increase in 1921

For 1921, according to L. E. Selby, owner of "Miss Margaret", one of the Illinois river class champions, there will be more racing boats in Peoria than in any other year since the inception of the sport. The great results accomplished during the past season have stirred the interest of all the old river fans and of many new ones, and at least two dozen racing boats are being built at the present moment for the early spring season.

Several of the Peoria leaders are arranging to attend the New York Motor Boat Show, December 10th to 18th, to make arrangements to contract for the power plants for their racers, as the exhibits there will include practically all of the well known high speed engines suitable for speed craft.

MORMON COULEE GUN CLUB STAUNCH SUPPORTERS OF WISCONSIN ONE BUCK LAW

In the midst of the agitation among hunters against the one buck law recently enacted by the legislature of Wisconsin, the Mormon Coulee Gun club, an organization of live sportsmen in that vicinity, denounce the current reports that many does have been killed in the northern woods and in turn are staunch supporters of the one buck law passed by the Wisconsin legislature for the purpose of conserving the game in the north.

In support of the arguments presented by the local organization for the continuance of the law S. P. Markle, president of the gun club, who with six other members of the organization has just returned from a hunting expedition in the northern territory, reports that conditions as heralded by the opponents of the law, do not exist. His statement indicates that the majority of the does killed in the northern woods are shot by the settlers in that district who can smuggle the game to their homes without shipping. Mr. Markle indicates that the current reports about a great number of does being shot, have been exaggerated.

Additional legislation providing that the hunting season be placed from the first to the tenth of December, instead of at the present date, is an item for which the gun club is in favor. Mr. Markle stated that if the season should be changed to this date, it would be more difficult to shoot a buck and thereby would be a large factor in the conservation of the game, and add a great deal to the sport of hunting.

The organization is further in favor of increasing the price of the deer tag from ten cents to one dollar, according to Mr. Markle's statement, the additional funds received by this increase to be used in payment for the services of additional game wardens. "Game wardens are a scarce article up there," said Mr. Markle.

The party of seven, representing the Mormon Coulee Gun club, has just returned from a hunting trip, bringing a bag of four bucks between them. George Roeth, member of the party, picked off the largest one, which weighed 256 pounds, while his brother, Will Roeth, bagged a 135-pounder.

LIKE TO WITNESS CHAMPS IN ACTION

That's the Reason Why Thousands Came Out Daily to See Shooting Experts

BY PETER F. CARNEY
Editor National Sports Syndicate
That the American public likes to witness exhibitions by those who are proficient in the handling of firearms was proven last fall and again recently when rifle teams of expert trapshooters and rifle shooters representing the Winchester Repeating Arms company made six weeks tours giving exhibitions daily.

The 1919 tour carried the shooters through Pennsylvania, Ohio, Illinois, Missouri, Arkansas, Kentucky, Michigan and Tennessee while the 1920 tour carried the shooters through the New England states: Connecticut, Rhode Island, Massachusetts, Vermont, New Hampshire, and to a few places in New York state. Thirty-three exhibitions were given in thirty-five days on the recent trip and the average attendance was more than 2,000.

At Newport, R. I., the exhibition was given on the grounds of the United States Naval Training station at the instance of the officers of the war college and 3,500 jockies lined the lawn to see the best shots in the world in action with traps and rifles. The attendance at Newport was near the 5,000 mark.

On the trip last fall the shooters went into places where there were gun clubs and rifle clubs but on the recent trip many cities and towns were selected that had no trapshooting club or rifle organization. New England has been backward in a trapshooting way, and rifle clubs are not as thick as they are in other sections, and the hope of the promoters of the tour was that it would develop a greater interest in all kinds of shooting in each of the cities visited. New Englanders are strong for field hunting but haven't taken very strongly to the days, but now that they have witnessed real shooters in action at our best sports there isn't a doubt but that trap and rifle shooting will be on a better basis in the New England states.

With the exception of Bender the members of the shooting team that toured New England are now in various parts of Texas showing their wares.

These two team trips have worked wonders for the sport of shooting and it is more than likely that one and maybe two more such trips will be put through in 1921. The exhibitions are wonderful. It was noted on the New England tour that people who saw the exhibition in one city would drive to another city later on and see the performance again. Traveling salesmen proved the greatest boosters for the team. Salesmen after witnessing the exhibition in one city would pass along the word and there was always a good sprinkling of traveling men on hand.

FOUR MEMBERS OF BIG TEN LEAGUE DROP OUT IN 1921

UREANA, Ill.—Four members of the Big Ten conference will be dropped next year, according to athletic officials at Illinois university here.

The four schools which it is said would be eliminated are Northwestern, Indiana, Purdue and Iowa. Inability to produce football of the class shown by the other six conference schools was given as the reason.

Members of the big ten will meet in Chicago Saturday to plan for next year and it is believed the move to drop these four schools will be made then.

W. G. A. PRESIDENT CALLS EXPANSION FOR GOOD OF GAME

Believe Rules Should be Changed as Knowledge of Game Increases

CLEVELAND, Ohio.—The directors of the Western Golf Association recommended the adoption of a new constitution looking towards an American organization, and to promote the best interests of the game for Americans, believing that changes in the rules of golf may be advisable from time to time, according to a statement issued by Wilbur H. Brooks, president of the association, last night.

His statement was prompted by the announcement in Chicago yesterday that the W. G. A. at its January meeting would vote on a proposition to expand and take in the entire country under the name of the American Golf association, a move that probably would result in a break with the U. S. G. A.

To Save Golf for Democracy

St. Andrews rules should be rewritten in response to the popular demand for a set of "understandable rules" covering the playing conditions in this country, Mr. Brooks said. His statement in part follows:

"The W. G. A. is neither a local nor sectional body. From a charter membership of ten clubs its membership now extends into thirty-one states, Canada, and Hawaii.

"The Western Golf association believes that Americans understand golf and that they play under different conditions from those existing in other countries, and that Americans are entirely capable of formulating the proper rules for playing the game in this country.

Elastic Code of Rules

"The W. G. A. believes further that changes in the rules may be advisable from time to time, as our knowledge of the game increases, or as existing rules prove to be unpopular or unsuitable.

Doesn't Want Wife Shut Up With the Jury

MONTCLAIR, N. J.—Judge if the jury fails to agree I don't want my wife locked up all night in a room with a lot of men. It seems to me having men and women on the same jury will cause a rumpus in this neighborhood. This was one husband's objection when twelve women and sixteen men were summoned as tallsmen for a jury.

One tallsmen said:

"You can keep my wife as long as you like."

HARVARD COLLEGE WANTS GAME WITH OHIO NEXT SEASON

Believe Offer Will be Turned Down Because of Restricting Return Game

COLUMBUS O.—Athletic Director St. John of Ohio State Thursday received a telegram from Harvard university athletic department asking Ohio State to play Harvard at Cambridge during the season of 1921. The offer undoubtedly will be turned down because it was made with the restriction that Harvard could not come to Columbus to play a return game in the new stadium in 1922. Faculty restrictions was given as the reason.

Coach Wilce called his football men together for the first practice since the team broke training nearly two weeks ago. Daily practice will be ordered until the team leaves for California Dec. 18.
